It's easy to verify reseller permits online

Reseller permits allow businesses to buy items for resale without paying retail sales tax. Wholesalers and other businesses can verify customers' permits are valid with just a few clicks. Get more information, including an instructional video, at dor.wa.gov/resellerpermit.

Look up a tax rate on the go!

Now available for Androids. Do you provide services or make deliveries for customers at their sites? Washington's free tax rate lookup app will help you find the correct sales tax rate for any location—right from your phone. Use GPS and instantly have the rate, location code, and a confirmation code. Save the information to your list or forward it to another phone or email address. You can even use the app to automatically calculate the total due from your customer. Did we mention it's free? Learn more by visiting dor.wa.gov/TaxRateMobile. Available for iPhones, iPads, and Androids.

Did you collect too much sales tax?

Businesses are responsible to collect the appropriate amount of sales tax on a transaction and remit it to the Department of Revenue. On occasion, too much sales tax may be collected. If you over-collect sales tax in error, you should promptly refund the tax directly to your customer. If that's not possible, you must remit the excess tax to the Department on your next excise tax return.

If you E-file, report the excess tax on the "Over-collected Sales Tax" line on the State Sales & Use Tax page. If you're a paper filer, add the amount of excess tax to the total amount due and attach a note explaining that the extra money is over-collected sales tax.

For more information, see ETA 3106.2009

Know your tax reporting obligations

Taxpayers are responsible for knowing their tax reporting obligations. Due to budget restrictions, the Department is unable to mail information to taxpayers as often as we did in the past. So how can you learn about law changes?

Here are some tips:

Keep your contact information current

The Department may need to reach you. Be sure your contact information on file is current. To update your information, go to our website at dor.wa.gov, click on Doing business, then on Update my business information.
